

ARIN 340 Unit 2 Assignment Worksheet

(This Worksheet will be submitted at the end of Unit 2.)

Introduction:

This assignment involves completing Modules 1–4 of the IBM Skills Network Prompt Engineering for Everyone tutorial. You should complete ALL Labs (1–9) and ALL quizzes in Modules 1–4. Module 5 is not required. You are encouraged to complete Modules 1 and 2 during Unit 1 of this course. Modules 3 and 4 will be completed during Unit 2 of this course.

For your assignment submission to LEO, you will submit your Certificate of Completion. You will download the certificate from the IBM Skills Network and submit it to the LEO Assignment 1 folder. Note that the Certificate of Completion is based entirely on completing the quizzes at the end of Modules 1–4 within the Prompt Engineering for Everyone tutorial.

Prompt Engineering for Everyone

Completing the Worksheet:

In addition to completing Modules 1–4 in the Prompt Engineering for Everyone tutorial, you will complete the following supplemental exercises based on Modules 3 and 4 using the AI platform provided in the tutorial. Submit this completed Assignment 1 Worksheet, along with your Certificate of Completion, to the LEO Assignment 1 folder by Tuesday in Unit 2.

Module 3 Exercise

Zero-Shot Chain of Thought Prompting:

1. Ask a direct question about an unfamiliar topic within the AI prompt. Note the response, and copy and paste your question and the response to the worksheet. Using the phrases, "Let's think step by step," or, "Let's work this out in a step-by-step way," pose the question again and see if the AI can produce a more reasoned, detailed response.
2. Use at least TWO additional attempts to rephrase the initial question and/or the “step-by-step” prompt, noting your new prompts and the responses. You will have ONE initial direct question and response and at least THREE additional prompt and response attempts (at least FOUR total).
3. Assess the quality and depth of the AI's answer compared to a traditional prompt.
4. Cut and paste your prompts and responses below (at least FOUR iterations, TEXT only, not screenshots). Your text will not fit in the space below and will extend to multiple pages, which is okay.

Prompt 1-“How should I start a franchise?”

Starting a franchise can be an exciting venture. Here are the key steps to guide you through the process:

Research Franchise Opportunities: Identify industries that interest you and research various franchise options within those industries. Look for franchises with a proven track record, strong brand recognition, and support systems.

Evaluate Franchise Disclosure Document (FDD): Once you find a franchise you are interested in, review its Franchise Disclosure Document. This document provides essential information about the franchise, including fees, obligations, and financial performance.

Assess Your Finances: Determine your budget for starting a franchise. Consider franchise fees, startup costs, and ongoing royalties. Ensure you have sufficient capital or financing options in place.

Talk to Existing Franchisees: Reach out to current franchise owners to learn about their experiences. Ask about the support they receive, challenges faced, and overall satisfaction with the franchise.

Choose a Location: If your franchise requires a physical location, research potential sites. Consider factors like foot traffic, competition, and demographics.

Complete Training Programs: Most franchises require new owners to undergo training. This training will cover operational procedures, marketing strategies, and customer service standards.

Sign the Franchise Agreement: After thorough consideration and understanding of the terms, sign the franchise agreement. This legally binding document outlines your rights and responsibilities as a franchisee.

Launch Your Franchise: Once everything is in place, prepare for your grand opening. Implement marketing strategies to attract customers and start your business operations.

Continuously Seek Support: Utilize the training and resources provided by the franchisor. Stay connected with other franchisees for support and advice as you grow your business.

By following these steps, you can set a solid foundation for your franchise business.

Key Considerations

Consider your interests, financial situation, and the level of support you desire from the franchisor before making a decision.

Prompt 2-“Let's work this out in a step by step way, how should I start a franchise?”

Starting a franchise involves several key steps to ensure that you are well-prepared and informed throughout the process. Here's a step-by-step guide to help you get started:

Step 1: Research and Choose a Franchise

Identify Your Interests: Consider what industries you are passionate about or have experience in.

Franchise Options: Research different franchise opportunities that align with your interests and financial capabilities. Look for franchises with a proven track record and strong support systems.

Step 2: Evaluate the Franchise

Franchise Disclosure Document (FDD): Review the FDD, which provides important information about the franchise, including fees, obligations, and the franchisor's financial performance.

Speak to Current Franchisees: Reach out to existing franchise owners to get insights into their experiences, challenges, and successes.

Step 3: Assess Your Finances

Initial Investment: Determine how much capital you need to invest in the franchise, including franchise fees, equipment, and working capital.

Funding Options: Explore financing options such as loans, personal savings, or investors.

Step 4: Create a Business Plan

Outline Your Strategy: Develop a detailed business plan that includes your goals, target market, marketing strategies, and financial projections.

Franchise Requirements: Ensure your plan aligns with the franchise's operational requirements and standards.

Step 5: Legal Considerations

Consult a Lawyer: Engage a lawyer who specializes in franchise law to review the franchise agreement and advise you on legal obligations.

Register Your Business: Depending on your location, you may need to register your franchise as a legal entity.

Step 6: Training and Setup

Attend Training Programs: Participate in the training programs provided by the franchisor to understand their operational procedures and standards.

Location Setup: Secure a location for your franchise and set it up according to the franchisor's specifications.

Step 7: Launch Your Franchise

Marketing and Promotion: Implement marketing strategies to attract customers to your new franchise.

Grand Opening: Plan a grand opening event to create buzz and attract initial customers.

Step 8: Ongoing Support and Growth

Utilize Franchisor Support: Take advantage of the ongoing support provided by the franchisor, including marketing assistance and operational guidance.

Monitor Performance: Regularly assess your franchise's performance and make adjustments as needed to ensure growth and profitability.

Additional Resources

Consider joining franchise associations or attending franchise expos for networking and learning opportunities.

Prompt 3-“Can you give me a step-by-step process that starts from the beginning with no knowledge and ends with being an expert in the field. How do I start a new business franchise?”

Starting a new business franchise from scratch and becoming an expert in the field involves a systematic approach. Here's a step-by-step guide to help you navigate this journey:

Step 1: Understand the Basics of Franchising

Research Franchising: Familiarize yourself with the concept of franchising, including its benefits and challenges. Read books, articles, and watch videos about franchising.

Franchise Terminology: Learn key terms such as franchisor, franchisee, franchise agreement, and royalty fees.

Step 2: Self-Assessment

Evaluate Your Skills: Assess your strengths, weaknesses, and interests to identify what type of franchise might suit you.

Financial Assessment: Determine your financial situation to understand how much you can invest in a franchise.

Step 3: Explore Franchise Opportunities

Franchise Directories: Use online franchise directories to explore various franchise options.

Attend Franchise Expos: Visit franchise expos to meet franchisors and learn about different business models.

Step 4: Conduct In-Depth Research

Franchise Disclosure Document (FDD): Obtain and review the FDD of franchises you are interested in, focusing on fees, obligations, and performance metrics.

Market Research: Analyze the market demand for the franchise you are considering and identify your target audience.

Step 5: Connect with Franchisees

Interviews: Speak with existing franchisees to gain insights into their experiences, including challenges and support from the franchisor.

Networking: Join franchise-related groups or forums to connect with other franchisees and industry experts.

Step 6: Financial Planning

Budget Creation: Create a detailed budget that includes initial investment, ongoing expenses, and projected revenue.

Funding Sources: Explore different funding options such as bank loans, personal savings, or crowdfunding.

Step 7: Develop a Business Plan

Business Strategy: Write a comprehensive business plan outlining your business goals, marketing strategies, and financial projections.

Franchise Requirements: Ensure your plan complies with the franchisor's operational standards and guidelines.

Step 8: Legal Considerations

Legal Consultation: Hire a franchise attorney to review the franchise agreement and ensure you understand your legal obligations.

Business Registration: Register your franchise as a legal entity, obtaining necessary licenses and permits.

Step 9: Training and Setup

Franchise Training: Attend the franchisor's training programs to learn about operations, marketing, and customer service.

Location Setup: Choose a suitable location and set it up according to the franchisor's specifications.

Step 10: Launch Your Franchise

Marketing Plan: Implement marketing strategies to promote your franchise and attract customers.

Grand Opening: Organize a grand opening event to generate excitement and initial sales.

Step 11: Ongoing Learning and Adaptation

Continuous Education: Stay updated on industry trends and best practices by attending workshops, webinars, and conferences.

Performance Monitoring: Regularly evaluate your franchise's performance, seeking feedback from customers and making necessary adjustments.

Step 12: Network and Grow

Join Franchise Associations: Become a member of franchise associations for networking and access to resources.

Mentorship: Seek mentorship from experienced franchisees to gain insights and advice.

Conclusion

Becoming an expert in franchising takes time and commitment. By following these steps and continuously learning, you can build a successful franchise business and establish yourself as a knowledgeable professional in the field.

Prompt 4-“Can you give me a thorough in-depth step-by-step process for starting a franchise that focuses on cost-efficiency and location?”

Starting a franchise with a focus on cost-efficiency and optimal location involves careful planning and strategic decision-making. Here's a detailed step-by-step guide to help you navigate this process:

Step 1: Understand the Franchising Model

Research Franchising: Begin by learning the fundamentals of franchising, including its advantages, disadvantages, and how it operates.

Key Terminology: Familiarize yourself with terms like franchisor, franchisee, franchise agreement, and royalty fees to understand the business better.

Step 2: Self-Assessment

Skills and Interests: Evaluate your personal strengths, weaknesses, and interests to identify which type of franchise aligns with your capabilities.

Financial Assessment: Analyze your financial situation to determine how much you can invest initially and sustain in the long run.

Step 3: Explore Franchise Options

Cost-Efficient Franchises: Look for franchises known for lower startup costs and operational efficiencies. Use online directories to filter options.

Franchise Expos: Attend expos to meet franchisors and gather information about their offerings and support systems.

Step 4: Conduct Market Research

Location Analysis: Research potential locations based on demographics, foot traffic, and competition. Use tools like GIS mapping for data-driven insights.

Target Audience: Identify your target market and understand their preferences to ensure your franchise meets their needs.

Step 5: Evaluate Franchise Opportunities

Franchise Disclosure Document (FDD): Obtain and thoroughly review the FDD for franchises of interest. Focus on initial fees, ongoing royalties, and support provided.

Franchisee Feedback: Speak to current franchisees to gather insights on their experiences, particularly regarding costs and location success.

Step 6: Financial Planning

Budget Creation: Develop a detailed budget that includes initial investment, ongoing expenses, and potential revenue. Identify areas where you can save costs.

Funding Options: Explore funding sources such as small business loans, personal savings, or partnerships to cover your initial investment.

Step 7: Develop a Business Plan

Cost-Efficient Strategies: Create a business plan that emphasizes cost-saving measures and efficient operations. Include marketing strategies tailored to your target audience.

Franchise Compliance: Ensure your business plan aligns with the franchisor's operational standards and guidelines.

Step 8: Legal Considerations

Consult a Franchise Attorney: Hire a legal expert to review the franchise agreement and ensure you understand all obligations and liabilities.

Register Your Business: Complete any necessary legal registrations, including licenses and permits, to operate your franchise legally.

Step 9: Location Selection

Site Evaluation: Choose a location based on your market research. Consider factors such as visibility, accessibility, and proximity to competitors.

Lease Negotiation: Negotiate lease terms to ensure favorable conditions, such as lower rent or flexible lease duration.

Step 10: Training and Setup

Franchisor Training: Attend training sessions provided by the franchisor to learn about operations, marketing, and customer service.

Cost-Effective Setup: Set up your franchise location efficiently, using cost-effective materials and methods without compromising quality.

Step 11: Launch Your Franchise

Marketing Strategy: Implement a marketing plan that maximizes reach while minimizing costs. Utilize social media and local advertising to attract customers.

Grand Opening Event: Plan a grand opening to create buzz and attract initial customers. Consider promotions or special offers to drive traffic.

Step 12: Monitor Performance and Optimize

Performance Metrics: Regularly track key performance indicators (KPIs) to assess your franchise's success and identify areas for improvement.

Cost Management: Continuously look for ways to reduce costs and improve efficiency in operations and marketing.

Step 13: Ongoing Learning and Networking

Continuous Education: Stay informed about industry trends and best practices through workshops, webinars, and franchise associations.

Networking: Build relationships with other franchisees and industry professionals to share insights and strategies for success.

Conclusion

By following these steps with a focus on cost-efficiency and location selection, you can effectively start and grow a successful franchise. Continuous learning and adaptation will further enhance your expertise in the field.

5. Complete the Module 3 Exercise Analysis below.

In at least one paragraph (80+ words), assess the quality and depth of the AI's answer compared to a traditional prompt. Your response should include the following:

The AI did a much more thorough job when the step-by-step wording was added into the prompt. The original prompt of “How should I start a franchise?” gave a very generic overview of the question. It almost seemed that the original prompt was just giving advice, while the prompts with the step-by-step process gave more direction for making this happen in actuality. With the final 3 prompts that used the step-by-step wording the more detailed and thorough the wording was the more detailed the response. The fourth prompt had the most detailed response. This was because I asked it to focus on location and cost-efficiency. This is all becoming clear that the more detailed, nuanced prompt you can ask the model, the more efficient and detailed the answer will be. One of the easiest ways I think you can see the detail is my 1st step-by-step prompt had 8 steps, my 2nd step-by-step prompt had 12 steps, and my 3rd step-by-step prompt had 13 steps. While steps does not equal detail, it does show by taking the time to create more steps it is researching into the question further. I do not see much bias in these answers, which I think might be because of the type of question I asked. I think the bias could be that they all picked the same general steps or direction. If there was a different method for opening a franchise that also works, they might have stuck to the one that there is more data on creating a bias.

Module 4: Lab 7 Tree of Thought

For this part of the assignment, you will focus on additional strategies for prompt engineering, which are:

- Specificity in Instructions: While the generic steps are valuable, you can be more specific in your instructions for more actionable results in a real-world scenario. For instance, you might request each "expert" to provide two actionable tactics or tools per step they suggest. And you can, of course, request specific experts or expertise.
- Segmented Inquiry: As briefly mentioned before, once you have a broad strategy laid out, you can dive deeper into each individual step, asking the experts to further expand on their suggestions, or even query different experts about the same step to gather multiple perspectives.

Module 4 Lab 7 Exercise

1. Using the Tree-of-Thought prompting approach, leverage the LLM to answer a different type of question you might have. You should have a minimum of SIX prompts in this exercise. Be sure you are implementing the Tree of Thought approach as explained in the tutorial.
2. After an initial prompt or two, implement each of the two additional strategies listed above in separate prompts.
3. Cut and paste your prompts and the results below.

Prompt 1-"Develop a marketing strategy for a local sports bar. Start by identifying key areas needing improvement, using experts in customer service, store management, and marketing."

To develop a successful marketing strategy for a local sports bar, it's essential to identify key areas needing improvement and leverage the expertise of professionals in customer service, store management, and marketing. Here's a structured approach:

Key Areas Needing Improvement

Customer Experience

Feedback Mechanism: Implement a robust system for collecting customer feedback to understand their needs and preferences.

Staff Training: Regular training sessions for staff to enhance customer service skills and product knowledge.

Store Management

Inventory Management: Optimize inventory processes to reduce waste and ensure popular items are always in stock.

Operational Efficiency: Assess current workflows to identify bottlenecks in service and streamline operations.

Marketing and Promotion

Social Media Presence: Increase engagement on social media platforms by posting regularly and interacting with followers.

Local Partnerships: Collaborate with local businesses, sports teams, and events to promote the bar and attract more customers.

Steps to Develop the Strategy

Conduct Market Research: Gather data on local demographics, competitors, and customer preferences.

Set Clear Objectives: Define what success looks like (e.g., increased foot traffic, higher sales, improved customer satisfaction).

Engage Experts: Consult with customer service, store management, and marketing professionals to gather insights and best practices.

Implement Changes: Roll out improvements based on feedback and expert recommendations, ensuring all staff are on board.

Monitor Progress: Regularly assess the effectiveness of the changes and adapt strategies as needed.

Conclusion

By focusing on these key areas and involving experts, the sports bar can enhance its overall performance, attract more customers, and foster a loyal community.

Next Steps

Consider organizing a workshop with experts to brainstorm specific initiatives based on the identified areas.

Prompt 2-"Based on the previous strategy can you delve deeper into the marketing and promotion expert while also giving the other experts opinions on marketing?"

To delve deeper into the marketing and promotion strategies for the local sports bar, we can outline specific recommendations from marketing experts, as well as insights from customer service and store management professionals regarding marketing efforts.

Marketing and Promotion Expert Insights

Digital Marketing Strategy

SEO Optimization: Ensure that the bar's website is optimized for local search terms (e.g., "sports bar near me") to improve visibility on search engines.

Content Marketing: Create engaging content related to sports events, promotions, and community engagement to attract and retain customers.

Email Marketing: Develop a mailing list to send out newsletters about upcoming events, special promotions, and exclusive offers to encourage repeat visits.

Social Media Engagement

Platform Selection: Focus on platforms where the target audience is most active, such as Instagram and Facebook.

Content Calendar: Maintain a content calendar to plan posts around local sports events, holidays, and special promotions.

User-Generated Content: Encourage customers to share their experiences on social media and feature their posts on the bar's official pages to build community and authenticity.

Event Marketing

Themed Nights: Organize events based on popular sports games, trivia nights, or local team celebrations to draw in crowds.

Partnerships with Local Teams: Collaborate with local sports teams for sponsorships or co-hosting events, which can enhance visibility and attract their fan base.

Customer Service Expert Insights on Marketing

Personalized Customer Interactions: Train staff to engage with customers personally, remembering regulars' names and preferences, which can enhance word-of-mouth marketing.

Customer Loyalty Programs: Implement loyalty rewards programs that incentivize repeat visits, such as discounts or free items after a certain number of visits.

Exceptional Service: Stress the importance of exceptional service, as satisfied customers are more likely to recommend the bar to friends and family.

Store Management Expert Insights on Marketing

Operational Support for Promotions: Ensure that staff schedules align with promotional events to provide adequate service during peak times.

Inventory for Promotions: Manage inventory effectively to ensure that popular items are stocked during promotional events, preventing missed sales opportunities.

Feedback Loop: Create a system for staff to provide feedback on customer reactions to promotions, allowing for adjustments and improvements in real-time.

Conclusion

By integrating insights from marketing, customer service, and store management experts, the sports bar can create a comprehensive marketing strategy that not only attracts new customers but also fosters loyalty among existing ones. The focus should be on creating memorable experiences that encourage patrons to return and share their experiences with others.

Next Steps

Workshops and Training: Organize workshops with experts to refine marketing strategies and train staff on new initiatives.

Pilot Programs: Test new marketing strategies on a smaller scale before full implementation to gauge effectiveness and make necessary adjustments.

Prompt 3-“Can each expert create a detailed 2 step plan for implementing and operating each of the 3 marketing areas: customer loyalty program, local team partnership, and themed nights.”

To effectively implement and operate the marketing initiatives of a Customer Loyalty Program, Local Team Partnership, and Themed Nights, here's a detailed two-step plan for each area, incorporating insights from marketing, customer service, and store management experts.

Customer Loyalty Program

Design the Program

Define Rewards Structure: Collaborate with customer service experts to establish a rewards system that resonates with customers. Options could include discounts, free items, or exclusive access to events based on visit frequency.

Implement Technology Solutions: Work with store management to choose a user-friendly digital platform (like an app or a card system) that tracks customer purchases and rewards, ensuring staff is trained on how to use it effectively.

Launch and Promote the Program

Marketing Campaign: Utilize social media and in-store promotions to announce the loyalty program, creating excitement and encouraging sign-ups.

Gather Feedback: After launch, collect customer feedback to assess satisfaction and make necessary adjustments, ensuring the program remains appealing and effective.

Local Team Partnership

Identify Potential Partnerships

Research Local Teams: Engage with marketing experts to identify local sports teams that align with the bar's brand and target audience. Reach out to teams to discuss potential collaboration opportunities.

Negotiate Terms: Work with store management to establish mutually beneficial terms for sponsorships or co-hosted events, ensuring both parties have clear expectations.

Co-Host Events and Promotions

Plan Collaborative Events: Organize events such as watch parties or meet-and-greet sessions with players, leveraging the local team's fan base to attract new customers.

Promote Through Team Channels: Utilize the local team's marketing channels (social media, newsletters) to promote events, ensuring a wider reach and increased attendance.

Themed Nights

Develop a Schedule of Events

Brainstorm Themes: Collaborate with staff and marketing experts to brainstorm engaging themes based on popular sports events, holidays, or community interests (e.g., trivia nights, holiday celebrations).

Create a Calendar: Establish a calendar of themed nights and ensure it is communicated through social media and in-bar promotions, allowing customers to plan their visits.

Execute and Evaluate

Staff Training: Train staff on the specifics of each themed night, including special promotions, menu items, and expected customer interactions to ensure a seamless experience.

Post-Event Review: After each themed night, gather customer feedback and sales data to evaluate success, making adjustments for future events to enhance appeal and effectiveness.

Conclusion

Implementing these detailed plans requires collaboration between marketing, customer service, and store management experts to ensure that each initiative is successful and resonates with customers. By focusing on engagement and community, the sports bar can create a loyal customer base and enhance its brand presence.

Next Steps

Consider scheduling regular meetings with the involved experts to monitor progress and make adjustments to the strategies as needed.

Prompt 4-“Can you expand on the marketing campaign for our customer loyalty by focusing on the social media aspect of the advertising? Use the 3 experts we have been using as well as ask an expert in social media advertising?”

To effectively promote the Customer Loyalty Program through social media, we can leverage insights from marketing, customer service, store management, and social media advertising experts. Here’s a detailed approach focusing on the social media aspect of the campaign:

Social Media Marketing Campaign for Customer Loyalty Program

1. Define Target Audience

Marketing Expert Insight: Identify the demographics of your current customer base and potential customers. Use analytics tools to understand which social media platforms they frequent.

Social Media Expert Insight: Create customer personas based on age, interests, and social media behavior to tailor content effectively.

2. Create Engaging Content

Content Types: Develop a mix of content types, including:

Promotional Posts: Eye-catching graphics and videos that explain the loyalty program and its benefits.

Customer Testimonials: Share stories from satisfied customers who have benefited from the loyalty program, enhancing credibility.

Behind-the-Scenes Content: Showcase staff preparing for themed nights or events to build a personal connection with the audience.

Customer Service Expert Insight: Ensure that the messaging reflects the bar's commitment to excellent customer service, emphasizing personalized experiences.

3. Develop a Content Calendar

Social Media Expert Insight: Plan a content calendar that aligns posts with key dates, such as the launch of the loyalty program, themed nights, or local sports events. Consistency is key to maintaining engagement.

Marketing Expert Insight: Schedule posts at optimal times when your audience is most active, using analytics tools to determine these times.

4. Utilize Paid Advertising

Targeted Ads: Use social media advertising tools to create targeted ads that reach specific demographics in your area, highlighting the loyalty program's benefits.

A/B Testing: Experiment with different ad formats (carousel ads, video ads) and messaging to see what resonates best with your audience.

Store Management Insight: Ensure that the operational aspects, such as inventory for promotions, are aligned with the expected increase in customer visits from these ads.

5. Engage with the Audience

Interactive Posts: Create polls, quizzes, or contests related to the loyalty program to engage the audience and encourage shares.

Respond to Comments: Actively monitor and respond to comments and messages to enhance customer relationships and demonstrate excellent service.

Customer Service Expert Insight: Train staff to handle social media inquiries and comments professionally, maintaining the bar's positive reputation.

6. Monitor and Adjust

Analytics Tracking: Use social media analytics tools to track engagement, reach, and conversion rates related to the loyalty program posts.

Feedback Loop: Regularly gather feedback from customers about their awareness and perception of the loyalty program, making adjustments to the campaign as necessary.

Social Media Expert Insight: Stay updated on social media trends and adjust strategies accordingly to keep content fresh and engaging.

Conclusion

By integrating insights from various experts, the sports bar can create a comprehensive social media marketing campaign that effectively promotes the Customer Loyalty Program. The focus should be on creating engaging, relevant content that resonates with the target audience while fostering community and loyalty.

Next Steps

Content Creation: Begin developing the content for the campaign and schedule a meeting with the involved experts to finalize strategies and responsibilities.

Next Steps

Begin developing the content for the campaign and schedule a meeting with the involved experts to finalize strategies and responsibilities.

Prompt 5-“Using the social media advertising expert, with suggestions from the other experts, can you create a detailed weekly themed night which focuses on all needed social media aspects of the weekly themed night?”

To create a detailed weekly themed night plan for the sports bar that incorporates all necessary social media aspects, we can outline a comprehensive strategy that includes content creation, engagement, and promotional activities. This plan will involve insights from social media advertising, marketing, customer service, and store management experts.

Weekly Themed Night Plan: "Trivia Tuesdays"

Overview

Theme: Trivia Night

Day: Every Tuesday

Time: 7 PM - 10 PM

Goal: Increase foot traffic, enhance customer engagement, and promote the Customer Loyalty Program.

Social Media Campaign Components

1. Pre-Event Promotion (1 Week Before)

Social Media Expert Insight: Begin promoting the event one week in advance to build excitement.

Content Calendar: Schedule posts for each day leading up to the event.

Content Ideas:

Day 1: Announcement Post

Format: Eye-catching graphic with event details.

Message: "Join us for Trivia Tuesdays! Test your knowledge and win prizes!"

Call to Action (CTA): "Tag your trivia team in the comments!"

Day 3: Teaser Post

Format: Short video clip of previous trivia nights or a fun trivia question.

Message: "Can you answer this? Join us for more fun next Tuesday!"

Day 5: Loyalty Program Reminder

Format: Infographic highlighting loyalty program benefits during trivia night (e.g., double points).

Message: "Earn double loyalty points this Trivia Tuesday!"

2. Event Day Promotion

Social Media Expert Insight: Use live updates and interactive content to engage attendees.

Content Ideas:

Morning Post: Countdown Reminder

Format: Graphic with countdown (e.g., "Only 5 hours until Trivia Night!").

Message: "Gather your team and get ready for a night of fun and prizes!"

Live Updates: Post during the event

Format: Stories on Instagram/Facebook with live trivia questions and team highlights.

Message: "Round 1 starts now! What's your answer?"

Engagement Post: Encourage participation

Format: Poll or quiz on Stories related to trivia questions.

Message: "What category do you want for the next round? Comment below!"

3. Post-Event Engagement (Day After)

Social Media Expert Insight: Share highlights to maintain engagement and encourage future attendance.

Content Ideas:

Recap Post: Highlights and winners

Format: Collage of photos from the night, including winning teams and fun moments.

Message: "Congratulations to our Trivia Champions! Join us next week for more fun!"

Feedback Request: Gather opinions

Format: Short survey link in a post.

Message: "How did you enjoy Trivia Tuesday? Let us know your thoughts!"

Loyalty Program Reminder: Follow-up promotion

Format: Post reminding customers to check their loyalty points.

Message: "Don't forget to check your loyalty points after last night's fun!"

Expert Insights Integration

Marketing Expert: Ensure all posts include relevant hashtags (e.g., #TriviaTuesday, #SportsBarFun) to increase visibility.

Customer Service Expert: Train staff to engage with customers on social media, responding to comments and messages promptly.

Store Management Expert: Ensure that staff is prepared for increased foot traffic and that inventory is stocked for the event.

Conclusion

This detailed social media campaign plan for "Trivia Tuesdays" focuses on engaging the audience before, during, and after the event. By utilizing insights from various experts, the sports bar can effectively promote the themed night, enhance customer experience, and build community engagement.

Next Steps

Content Creation: Start creating the graphics, videos, and polls as outlined in the plan.

Staff Training: Schedule a training session for staff on social media engagement and event execution.

Prompt 6—"Focusing on the themed night "Trivia Tuesdays" and the steps for creating it, can you have the store management expert give a detailed segmented process for the store operations to set up Trivia Tuesdays immediately? Also have the other experts check the store management expert's process to check for any issues that could arise."

To successfully set up Trivia Tuesdays at the sports bar, a detailed segmented process from the Store Management Expert is essential. This process will include preparation, execution, and post-event activities. Additionally, feedback from the Marketing, Customer Service, and Social Media Advertising Experts will be incorporated to identify potential issues and ensure smooth operations.

Store Management Expert's Process for Setting Up Trivia Tuesdays

1. Pre-Event Preparation (1 Week Before)

Staff Scheduling:

Action: Create a staff schedule that ensures adequate coverage for the event, considering increased foot traffic.

Consideration: Ensure experienced staff members are scheduled for the event to handle customer inquiries effectively.

Inventory Management:

Action: Review inventory levels of popular items (e.g., drinks, snacks) and restock as necessary.

Consideration: Coordinate with suppliers to ensure timely delivery of additional stock, especially if special promotions are planned.

Equipment Setup:

Action: Ensure that all necessary equipment (e.g., microphones, projectors) is available and functional for trivia presentations.

Consideration: Conduct a test run to avoid technical issues on the event day.

2. Event Execution (Day of the Event)

Staff Briefing:

Action: Hold a pre-event briefing with staff to outline roles, responsibilities, and event flow.

Consideration: Emphasize customer engagement and the importance of promoting the loyalty program during interactions.

Setup and Decorations:

Action: Set up tables and chairs to accommodate trivia teams and create a fun atmosphere with decorations (e.g., themed banners).

Consideration: Ensure pathways are clear for easy movement and emergency access.

Trivia Coordination:

Action: Assign a trivia host responsible for asking questions, managing the score, and engaging with the audience.

Consideration: Ensure the host is trained in customer engagement techniques to enhance the experience.

3. Post-Event Activities (Day After)

Inventory Review:

Action: Conduct an inventory check to assess sales during the event and determine restocking needs for the following week.

Consideration: Analyze which items were most popular to inform future promotions.

Staff Feedback Session:

Action: Organize a feedback session with staff to discuss what went well and areas for improvement.

Consideration: Encourage staff to share customer feedback and suggestions for enhancing the trivia experience.

Expert Feedback and Considerations

Marketing Expert: Ensure that all promotional materials are ready and that staff is familiar with the marketing messages to communicate effectively. Potential issues include miscommunication about promotions or event details.

Customer Service Expert: Highlight the importance of staff training in customer engagement and handling inquiries. Issues may arise if staff is unprepared for increased customer interaction or questions about the loyalty program.

Social Media Advertising Expert: Emphasize the need for live social media updates during the event. If staff is not trained on how to use social media effectively, it could lead to missed engagement opportunities.

Conclusion

By following this segmented process and incorporating insights from various experts, the sports bar can ensure a successful launch of Trivia Tuesdays. This comprehensive approach addresses operational needs while enhancing customer experience and engagement.

Next Steps

Staff Training: Schedule a training session to prepare staff for their roles during Trivia Tuesdays.

Promotional Materials: Finalize and distribute marketing materials to promote the event effectively.

4. Then complete the Module 4 Lab 7 Analysis section below, using the following format:
 - First paragraph:
 - Define the Tree of Thought prompting approach.
 - Explain how you implemented the approach in your initial prompt(s).
 - Second paragraph:
 - Explain how you implemented each of the two additional strategies as described in the tutorial and the instructions.
 - Third paragraph:
 - Critique how well (or not) the entire process worked.
 - Compare and contrast the prompt's results.
 - Compare and contrast the approaches or strategies used.
 - Cite any additional observations or reflections that are beneficial to your analysis.

The Tree of Thought prompting approach is an approach that is extremely efficient with LLM's. Some experiments have shown chain of thought processing to be accurate to 4% while Tree of Thought has been accurate up to 74%. The Tree of Thought process is the process of using multiple experts and paths to come to a conclusion. This allows trial and error and corrections to be used. You need to try different pathways along the branches to come to conclusions that are the most accurate and feasible. It is like a tree diagram. You start with the initial prompt and then break it down along different paths and experts. These different paths and experts give a greater detail and picture for the prompt answer. Tree of Thought prompting is a way of making sure that prompts are thorough and have a wide range of expertise on the matter. I implemented the Tree of thought in my initial prompt by asking for the experts in marketing, store management, and customer service to give a process for marketing.

When using the Tree of Thought process there are 2 other approaches that can be implemented. The first is the specificity approach. This is basically asking for a specific part to be broken down into a more detailed specific manner. You can ask for a more detailed step-by-step instruction to increase specificity, as well as having experts with an expertise on the subject. In my prompt I asked, "Can each expert create a detailed 2 step plan for implementing and operating each of the 3 marketing areas: customer loyalty program, local team partnership, and themed nights." I am using the specificity process by asking each expert for a 2 step implementation as well as specifying the certain marketing fields I wish the experts to look at. The second approach is the segmented inquiry. This is the process of delving deeper into each individual step. The segmented inquiry is delving into deeper into a specific answer, step, or section that the model has replied with. I did this in Prompt 5 and 6. In prompt 5 I did this by asking to create a specific them night. In prompt 6 I did this by asking the expert in store management to come up with a store operations plan for the themed night to start immediately.

In conclusion it is obvious to me that the Tree of Thought approach is better than the Chain of Thought approach. The Tree of Thought does not follow a direct chain but uses a discussion like approach to look at different perspectives of the prompt. It also is very obvious the more you put into each prompt the more you will get out of it. In module 3 and module 4 each subsequent prompt had a better more detailed answer with it. This shows that the more detailed and more approaches you use with your prompt, the better the results will be. I believe it shows in order to make great, working prompts you need to combine all of these approaches into making your prompts. All prompts should use a combination of all of these to come to the greatest conclusion. I also see that you need your prompts to build off of previous responses and prompts in order to great conclusive, optimal, and feasible responses. I believe of all the responses I received the one after prompt 6 was the most accurate. This tells me that you need to work at the prompts and use all approaches to come to the best conclusions. Prompts should not just be one question, they should be a process.
